Published by the Senior Class of Holstein High School

Under the Editorship of Shirley Bergmann and Loren Schuett, who invite

You to turn the pages and see that . . .

. . . our Holstein School is People—people who work, study, learn, and play
here . . .

IT IS PEOPLE DOING THINGS—people associating together, seeking to perceive, understand, and develop their own potential strength and abilities . . .

THE REAL HOLSTEIN SCHOOL IS FOUND IN—

it's students and faculty, its alumni and friends . . .

They are found here . . .

. . . Not only in 1953

on the campus, in the classroom and laboratories, the auditorium-gymnasium and the library—

. . . but also . . .

. . . In the years to come—
It is Tomorrow's citizens . . .

For them there will be truths to explore, ideas to originate, theories to test, and experiments to pursue . . .

"Class of 1962"

For Tomorrow's Citizens' zealous minds and sound bodies . . . They are our school . . .

—Our school is . . . every student who has played the game—

Here in the field of sports are developed athletic skills which will have recreational value all during life . . . It is our privilege to experience the values of team play, cooperation, and good sportsmanship . . .

And You Will Find Us . . .

. . . On the Field or Court

. . . in the Stands . . .

. . . or on the stage

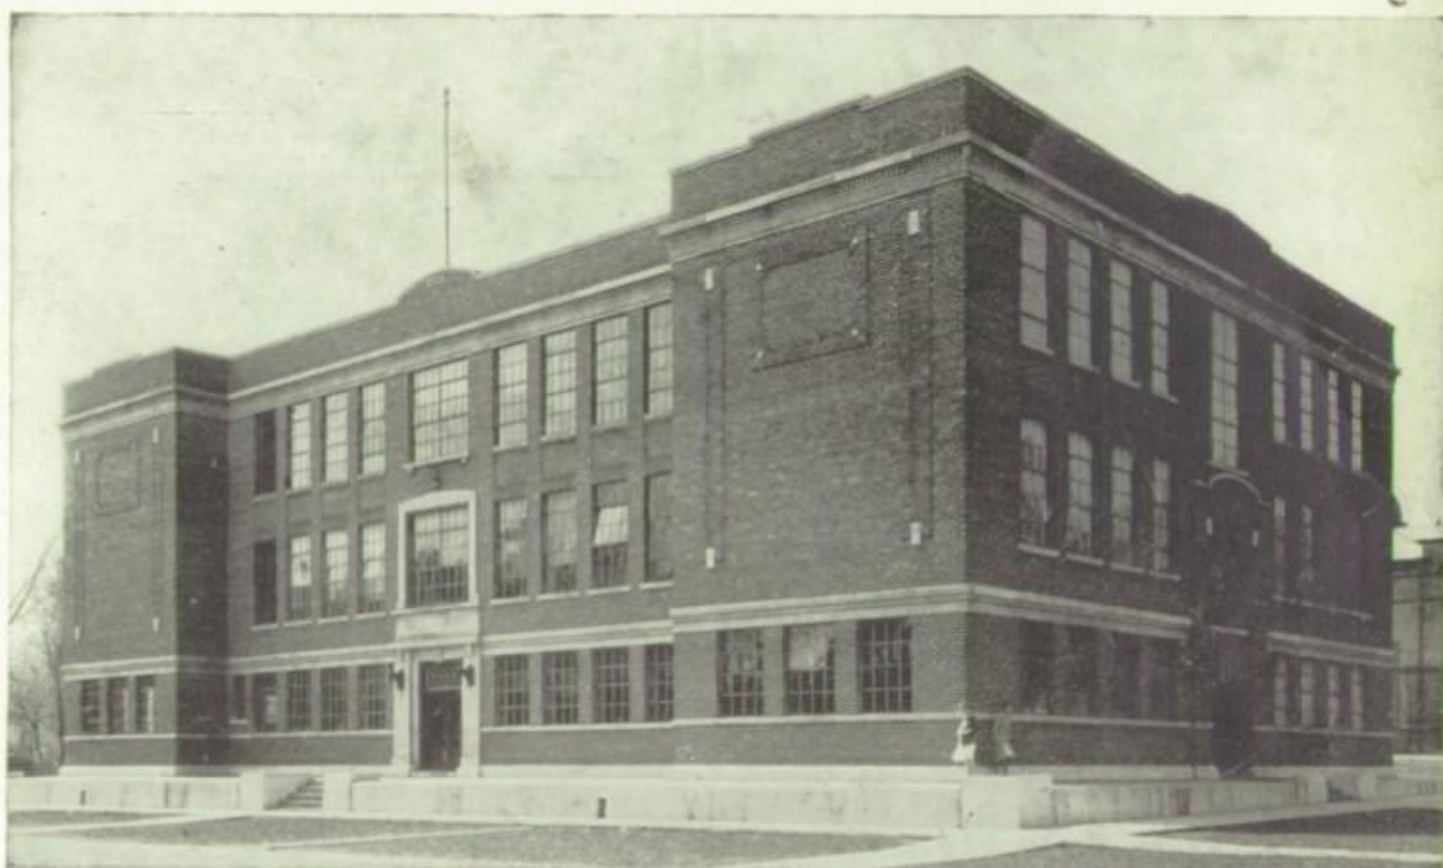

We are people—acquiring knowledge, developing our talents, capabilities, and skills—winning and losing and learning . . .

. . . it is every Student who has walked to the classes at the gym

—or to the Old Building . . .

Here are developed friendships, leadership, responsibilities, loyalties, a sense of values and good judgment . . .

The atmosphere of the campus of our school is stimulating and challenging . . .

. . . and it is every teacher here who has given of his talents—

—Here in the classrooms under their guidance we have found moments of joy, despondency, and triumphs . . . These are the essence of school life at Holstein . . .

—Ours was the privilege through the years to associate with them and receive from them zealous teaching and inspiring example.

Through their careful guidance we have confidence in our readiness to meet the challenges and responsibilities of the future . . .

. . . our school is this worker wherever he may be found

. . . for he is Holstein

—Working together taking pride in their part of the total school picture sharing in the belief that what's good for all is good for me . . .

—Our school is the product of this teamwork . . .

We, as Holstein people, started out our year by trying to earn money for Junior-Senior Prom. We helped serve at football games and then put on our play, "Room for One More" presented Nov. 12th.

After this was all over, we started plans for our prom which we enjoyed very much.

At the beginning of the second semester we ordered our class rings. Some of us couldn't make up our minds which we liked best.

This is a general review of what we busy Juniors have been doing this year.

With Mr. Gerber and Mr. Tallman as our class sponsors we people started out with our sophomore year by selling magazines, with a grand total of $1,535.00 worth of subscriptions and were presented a plaque for our outstanding accomplishments in this. Many of us received other gifts as a result of selling the most magazines.

Another interesting accomplishment this year was receiving our drivers' licenses, because everyone in this class enrolled in drivers' training.

We think we had a very successful year.

As September 28 drew to a close there were some mighty nervous freshmen people because the next two days were to be initiation days. We came to school, all wearing green beanies and bowing to the mighty seniors. The next night the seniors gave us a party. We all came in costume and finally we went through the paddling line. We enjoyed our initiation very much.

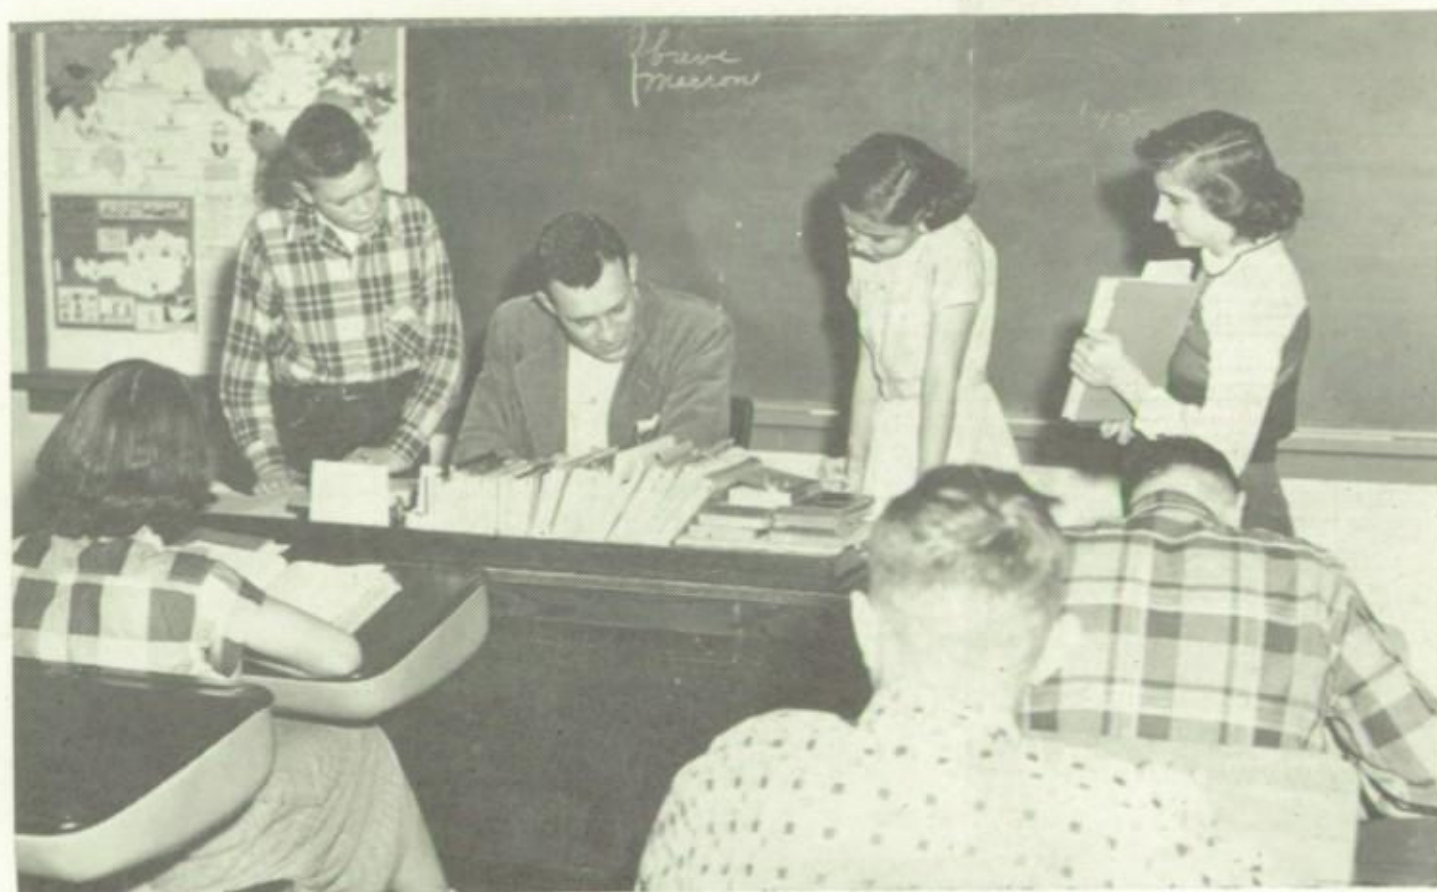

With the aid of Mrs. Jatho and Mr. Rosenberger we settled down and tried to become hardworking freshies. On December 19 we gave our first dance, which we thought was a big success.

With none of his backfield and only three of his linemen from last year's starting eleven back Coach Kraai was faced with the difficult task of building his team around these three. Despite this fact the Pirates came up with a very good team and if it had not been for a few bad breaks in a couple of games they would have come through with a few more wins. In a very tough schedule the team rolled on to win three of the seven, and their opponents knew they had been there in the other four.

. . . And the football season brought the Homecoming game with C'ville — and our Coronation ceremony for the King and Queen

On October 16 and 17 the students of Holstein High School proved that through their efforts and hard work they could present a beautiful candlelight ceremony for homecoming, a successful pep rally and an awesome parade. The coronation, the first of its kind, was held in the gymnasium on October 16. Musical numbers by the band opened the program, and to the music of "Beyond the Blue Horizon", the football boys marched in with lighted candles and lined the center aisle. Then the two attending couples, Mary Schubert and Bill Striepe, and Nancy Nelson and Gary Gerber, came down the aisle. They were followed by Queen, Shirley Bergmann, and King David Leonard. The royalty approached the stage where the King of 1951, Kenneth Goettsch, crowned Queen Shirley, and the Queen of 1946, Betty Bagenstos, crowned King David. Then the Commercial Club presented a corsage to Shirley which she pinned on her mother. The Queen and her attendants also received corsages, and the King and attendants received boutonnieres. After this ceremony the royalty escorted the crowd out to the football field where yells and a skit were enjoyed. Coach Kraai introduced his football boys, the dummy of C'ville was burned in the bonfire east of the gym, and hot cocoa was served to finish the evening.

On Tuesday and Thursday night of this same week the classes had each worked on their floats for the parade.

. . . And more of the ceremony—

This was held at 12:30 Friday, October 17, with the majorettes and band leading the parade, followed by the floats and convertibles carrying the King and Queen and attendants. The theme for the freshman float was a battle field with the Holstein Black Pirates as victors over the Warriors. The sophomore's theme was built around "spreading C'ville over the place." The juniors' theme carried out the pirate ship with captured warriors, while the seniors had a Used-Warrior supply sale and a grave yard scene.

The group selected Shirley Bergmann, Nancy Nelson, and Joan Schroeder as president, Vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.

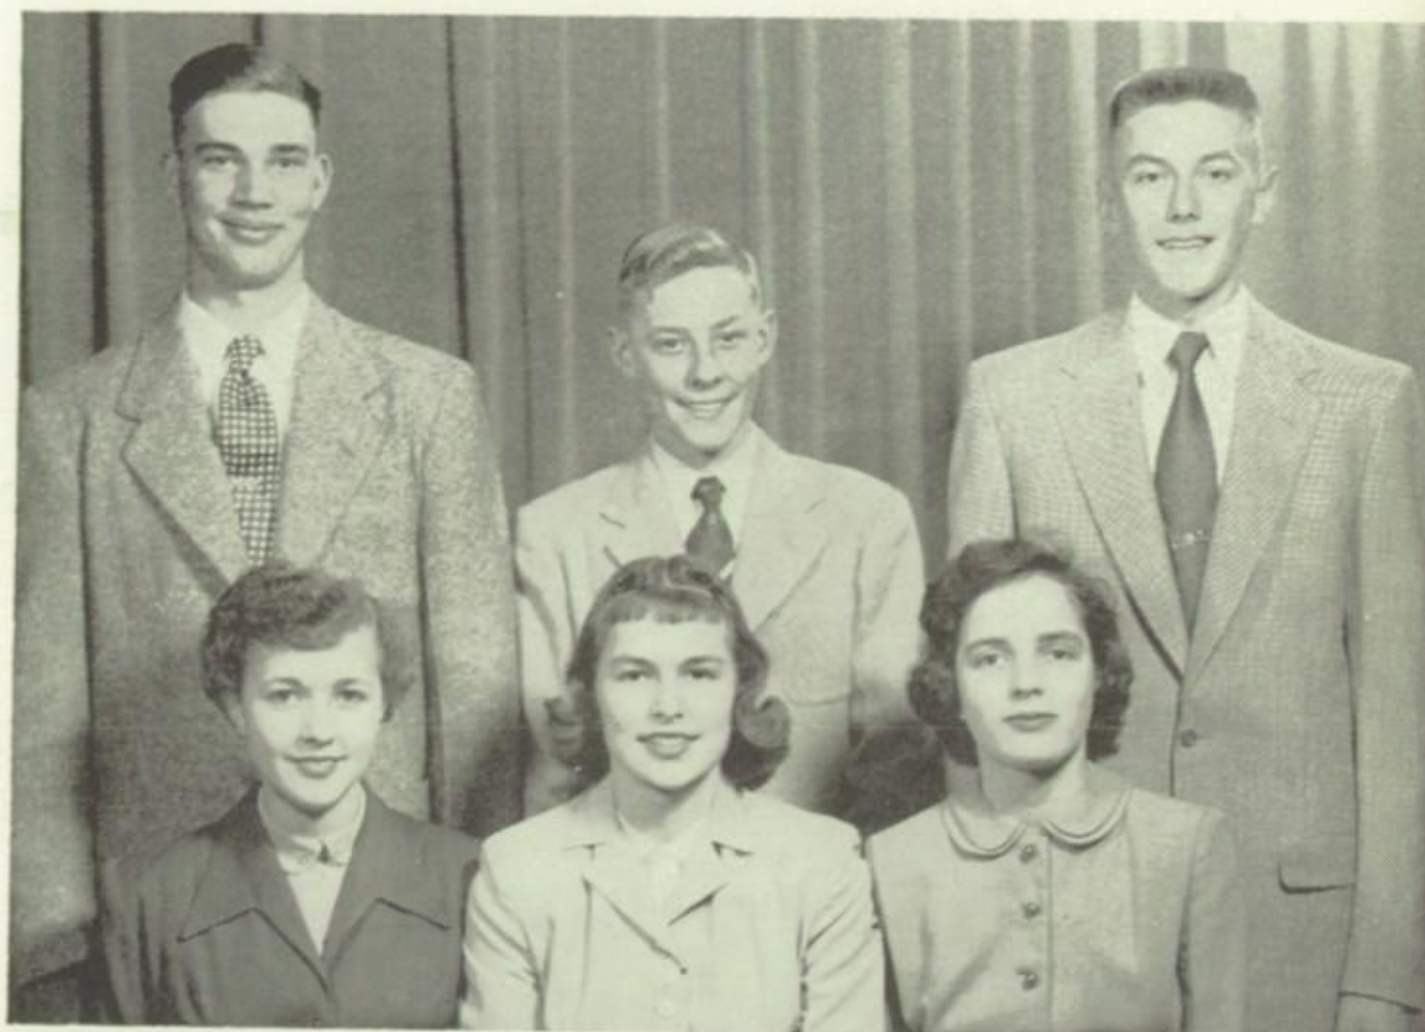

Form the two Glee Club groups nineteen girls and fifteen boys make up a third group, the Mixed Chorus, which meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:40 to 1:05 in a practice session. Guided and directed by Roy Tallman, the high school band reorganized for the football and concert seasons. The marching band practiced hard on their pre-game and half-time shows and performed them at home football games.

Beginning after football season a new practice-period rotation plan began, whereby about four people from each section would practice one period a week. This period would be a different period each week.

The band as a group played for the homecoming exercises, the American Legion Convention in Ida Grove, the musical program at Christmas time, and the Christmas drawing in the Turner Hall. A Pops Concert was also presented to a large audience on February 24.

The band is divided into two smaller bands known as the pep band and the show band. The pep band played for the pep meetings in the high school assembly and also at the home basketball games other than tournaments. The show band played for the junior play, the Advanced Home Economics Style Show, a school dance, and one night for the adult education school.

Holstein is journalism, too. Under the able guidance of the two co-editors, the Hi-Larity Staff got off to a good start.

Sixteen issues were put out, including a special Christmas issue, and a special senior issue.

More banner headlines were used this year and to create more interest a few pictures were added now and then.

The sports had a page of their own, and this proved to be easier for the reader. All he had to do was to look for one sports story, and the rest could be found near-by.

Friday was copy deadline day, in order for the paper to be out on Monday. The paper appeared once every two weeks, with Bruce Bye, the man on the printing end and Mr. LeRoy Stierlin on the directing end.

The Pep Club is people, too, 81 of them with Bill Striepe as president, Gary Gerber as vice president and Shirley Bergmann as secretary-treasurer. These people are developing their talents and creative abilities by planning pep meetings, skits and floats. Their project this year was to sell orange and black pirate stickers. They sponsored a successful homecoming parade and coronation ceremony. The Pep Club worked hard at pep meetings and took an active part in the Holstein Relays program, sponsoring the election and coronation of the queen at the Relays on April 10th.

. . . And in November came Ladies' Day

In observance of National Education Week the girls of Holstein High School and the women members of the faculty, consisting of Mrs. Jatho, Miss Anderson, and Miss Stoner, sponsored a "Ladies' Day" on Thursday, November the thirteenth. All the mothers of the high school students were invited, with each girl accompanying her mother and her foster mother, the mother of a boy in high school. Marlene Schroeder was mistress of ceremonies and told a short history of our school. Each girl introduced herself, her mother, and her foster mother. A representative from each class told about her average school-day. Jerri Jean Cole served as mistress of ceremonies for the second part of the program, with representatives telling about the other activities in school. The trio, the sextette, and the girls' glee club sang for us. Mr. Rosenberger favored the group with a solo, and Lois Striepe and Marilyn Wagner played a piano duet. Lunch was then served and each girl took her mother and foster mother on a tour of the school buildings.

* Maple Valley Conference Games

. . . And so—

The Holstein Piratettes finished a very successful 20-game year with only four defeats, three of these were at the hands of teams which were to be state tournament contenders. Coach Kraai had a lot of rebuilding to do since so many new faces were seen this year.

Holstein lost their first game to the powerful Charter Oak ball club in the clinic held here. The only other defeats were to Galva in the Maple Valley Tournament, to Hartley, and again to Galva in the sectional tournament.

Holstein's defense held their opponents to an average of 39 points a game while our offense averaged 56 points a game. One of the best defensive games played this year was against Quimby. The heart breaker of the year was when they lost to Galva in the sectional tournament in an overtime. The final score was 51 to 47.

The girls got their revenge by winning the Maple Valley Conference with ten straight wins, to add another trophy to the Holstein High School collection.

The girls completed the season by playing an exhibition ball game at the state tournament where they played Roland with a 15-12 win in a 14 minute game. This game was televised along with the state semifinals. Thus the girls completed a very successful year with 16 wins in 20 starts. With 9 of the first twelve back next year Holstein should again have a good ball club for the 1953-1954 season.

It was not a season overflowing with victories, but it was a winter sparkling with thrills and spills. The Pirates started off their season after only two weeks of practice and met defeat in their first 5 starts. They bounded back into the win column for the next five. From there on the wins and losses were mixed to the tune of three wins and six losses. Play in the Maple Valley and Sectional Tournaments rounded out the season for the Black Pirates. They were defeated in the opening round of the Maple Valley Tourney by Battle Creek and by Ida Grove in the Sectional.

. . . Springtime brought Spring activities and thoughts of graduation as the Seniors made ready their play—

"They Went Thataway" was the favorite topic of the seniors during March and part of April, since it was the name of their class play. As the name suggests it had a western theme.

The cast of characters:

Charlottle Pelham, owner of the Bar-B-Q	Mary Schubert
Lil Bower, her best friend	Norma Weiland
Sheriff Jackson, the law	Kenneth Obitz
Freddy Buck, a very funny fellow	David Leonard
Joe Chuckwagon, a noble Redman	Loren Schuett
Princess One Blossom, his wife	Marlene Schroeder
Elmira Spring, a wealthy tourist	Florence Kruse
Waxy, a tired business man	Duane Ruser
Queenie, his girl friend	Bonnie Breyfogle
Sue Castle, an incognito celebrity	Joan Schroeder

In the story a city girl inherits a ranch and with her side-kick goes into the dude ranch business. They are operating with very little money. Then a master of ceremonies comes in and is hired as a cowboy. The dudes start arriving: an heiress from the East, a couple of tired business people, and a Hollywood glamour girl. The two Indian characters add to the excitement. All sorts of skulduggery take place until the master of ceremonies emerges as the hero to claim the heroine's heart.

We Go

To The Prom . . .

The evening of May 12 found everybody and everything in readiness for the big party of the year. The ballroom, in keeping with the Western theme, was converted into a typical ranch corral, ringed with a rail fence and enclosing a "campfire" in the middle of the floor. Surrounding the ballroom on two sides were the lounge and refreshment bar in colors of yellow, green, and orchid. Sunset colors added to the atmosphere of the main ballroom. Juniors, Seniors and their guests entered through two large silver "horseshoes." By 8:30 Tony Bradley's orchestra was warmed up and the dancing continued until 12:30. The highlight of the evening came with the crowning of the 1952 King and Queen of the Prom, Lawrence Schroeder and Mary Ann Arp.

Early in the fall of 1952, the Moo Staff began their work of getting ready their yearbook. First they chose their class colors, and then they picked the cover for the Moo. This cover was selected, to be made in their class colors, white and purple. Mr. Bye was chosen to print the book, and the work began.

First of all, ads had to be sold to finance the Moo; then the stories had to be selected to go along with the theme which was, "Holstein School is people." The stories were written, typed and proofread. Next, the Moos had to be sold; and last, but not least, the Moos had to be delivered in May when they finally came out.

It took a lot of hard work, and effort on everyone's part, but they all agreed: "It was worth it!!"
